Easton Italian Lodges Mark Columbus Day; Hear Judge, Attorney

Richard Grifo, Easton attorney, described the exploits of Christopher Columbus last night at the Columbus Day dinner of the Italian-American lodges of Easton in the Hotel Easton.

President Judge Herbert F. Laub, Northampton county courts, told the gathering that people other than those of Italian extraction should gather on Columbus Day in observance of the deeds of not only Columbus but great Italian artists.

Remarks were made by Ernest L. Biagi, recording secretary of the Grand Executive Council order, Sons of Italy of Philadelphia; Charles Mirarchi, general counsel of Grand lodge, Sons of Italy, and Mayor Joseph H. Morrison, Easton.

John H. Cericola served as toastmaster. Invocation was pronounced by Rev. Francis Barbato. Carl Caruso sang several solos accompanied at the piano by Grace Tanzella. A vocal duet was given by Carl Caruso and Connie Stassi. Charles Porrello's orchestra furnished the music.

Organizations participating included: Easton Italian Home Assn., Ladies auxiliary E.I.H. Assn., Castel DiLucio society, Sommatino society, St. Anthony of Padova society, Abruzzese society, Holy Cross society, Garibaldi society, Enrico Millo lodge, Easton Ladies lodge and Alessandro Volta lodge.
